Dissertation Camp

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT SAN ANTONIO™

Facilitated by:
Dr. Sonja Foss, University of Colorado-Denver
Dr. William Waters, University of Houston

What is the Dissertation Camp at UTSA?
The Dissertation Camp provides intensive, focused writing time to help you make significant progress through the difficult stages of writing the doctoral dissertation.

Dr. Foss and Dr. Waters, authors of Destination Dissertation: A Traveler’s Guide to a Done Dissertation, will provide one-on-one private consultations to help you move forward with your dissertation.

Past participants of dissertation camps have made dramatic progress on their dissertations – many students go on to complete their dissertation within six to nine months!

Who Should Attend?
This event is for doctoral students who are currently working on their dissertation. It is strongly recommended that your dissertation proposal has been approved by your committee.

Advisors and mentors are welcome to participate and observe.
